CONFIDENTIALITY AGREEMENT

The purpose of our consultation today with Cari Rincker, Esq. of Rincker Law, PLLC is to discuss the use of mediation related to concerns involving our family or our marriage.

On the basis of our consultation, we will work with Cari to determine whether mediation would be appropriate. We may make arrangements with Cari to discuss, in mediation, matters relating to our family or our marriage.

We understand that frank communications are crucial in this consultation. Cari will keep confidential all written and oral statements made during this consultation. Cari may share with others information discussed during this consultation if she understands that we have given her permission to do so. In the unlikely case that our consultation leads Cari to suspect child abuse or neglect, or to believe that any person is in physical danger, she may share her concerns with any party.

We each agree not to call Cari as a witness in any legal or administrative proceeding concerning matters discussed during this consultation. We each hereby waive any right to call Cari as a witness.

We each agree not to subpoena or demand the production of any of Cari's records, notes, work product, etc. related to matters discussed during this consultation. We each hereby waive any right to demand these documents.

If either of us subpoenas Cari related to this consultation, she will move to quash the subpoena. We each agree to reimburse Cari for all expenses she incurs related to such a matter, including attorneys' fees for time taken by this matter.
